John, Sarah

John 00:00

Okay, so get this right picture, this walking through life, you've got this silent partner, this like fragment of the Divine, totally dedicated to, well, you to your growth. People have been sending us excerpts from the Urantia Book, and they want to unpack this idea, this whole thought adjuster thing, yeah. So that's what you're diving into specifically, well, paper 110, is what we're really right. That's the one that tries to break down this whole relationship between us, humans, you know, and this, this divine spark within.

Sarah 00:31

And it does, and not just with, like all this mystical jargon, you know, it actually gives us a framework, almost like a guidebook to this, this cosmic partnership we've got going on

John 00:42

that's interesting. Yeah, okay, so let's, let's unpack this a little bit. Right off the bat, the text uses this very powerful phrase describing the adjuster's devotion as quote the most truly divine affection in all creation, right? It's a that's setting the bar pretty high it is. I think it speaks to just how profound This is. What we're talking about. This isn't like some far off deity, kind of watching us from afar. This is a fragment of God itself intertwined with us, like with the very fabric of our being. And it's love for us. It's unlike anything else. It's pure, it's intense. Okay, so for someone who's hearing about this for the very first time, yeah, what exactly as a thought adjuster? Is it like this tiny, little angel sitting on our shoulder, whispering advice in our ear? Or it's even, it's more profound than that, the text makes it clear that that the adjuster, it doesn't live in our brains physically. It's not like, you know, it's more like, think of it as a spark of pure spirit, and it's interwoven with our consciousness, okay, constantly working to guide us towards our like, highest potential. Oh, I see. Okay, so this highest potential idea is really interesting to me. Yeah, the text mentions a model career that the adjuster has in mind for us, right? Does that mean that our lives are like predestined, like we're just acting out some cosmic script. That's where free will comes in, right? So the text acknowledges that there is this blueprint, this like, ideal path, okay, but it emphasizes over and over again our absolute freedom to choose a different path. Okay? We're not puppets, right? We're more like CO creators, you know, in this story of our lives. Oh, that's cool. I like that. So even though we have this incredible being, this part of us that's urging us towards this like, ideal version of ourselves, we could still be like, Thanks, but no thanks. I'm gonna go this way Exactly, exactly the adjuster wants us to embrace our full potential, right? But it has to operate within the boundaries of the choices that we make and and the text is also very honest about the fact that our our negative emotions, the decisions we make that aren't so great, they can really create interference. Yeah, that makes sense. It makes it harder for the adjusters guidance to come through, like trying to have a whispered conversation in a room full of people exactly like all the noise of our daily lives and our anxieties and our own inner chatter, it's no wonder it's hard to hear that subtle like divine whisper. That's a great way to put it. It's it's like the adjuster is not shouting at us. It's nudging us right. It's patiently waiting for us to create space for its guidance to be heard and and this is where the text introduces a concept that I find utterly fascinating, and that's the seven circles of growth. Okay, it's gonna say here's where things get really interesting, right? Seven stages of spiritual and intellectual development. It does kind of sound like we're in a cosmic video game all of a sudden. So what can you tell us about these, these seven circles? So imagine like seven distinct phases right in this journey of ours towards greater awareness, towards aligning ourselves with this divine plan, each circle is a deepening of our understanding, refining that connection with our adjuster. And each circle kind of builds on the last Exactly, exactly and and. While, while the text really stresses that these circles are deeply personal, right? They vary for each individual. It does give us some clues about the milestones involved. Okay, for instance, that first circle, you know, yeah, the seventh stage of this like cosmic curriculum, right? It's all about personal choice, moral responsibility, spiritual individuality. That's where we truly step into our power as CO creators. Wow, with the divine.

Sarah 01:01

J John 01:20

S Sarah 01:29

J John 01:48

S Sarah 02:04

J John 02:36

S Sarah 02:59

J John 03:26

S Sarah 03:39

J John 04:27

I like that. CO creators, yeah,

S Sarah 04:29

yeah. You know, it's, it's almost like graduating from, like, cosmic kindergarten. You know, we're ready to take on first grade. I like that. And just like in school, right? Each circle, it presents us with, like, new lessons, new chances to grow. Okay.

J John 04:44

So as we move through the circles, does it get like, any easier to hear the adjuster in a way? Yeah. So as we become more receptive, as we start to align our will with the Divine Will, the communication, it does get clearer. It gets more direct. Okay, imagine a faint signal, and it's gradually getting stronger. You know, the statics fading away as we kind of fine tune that connection. Ooh, that's good. I like that analogy. Yeah. So it's less about getting a direct message and it's more about, like, learning to recognize the ways that the adjuster is already trying to, like, get our attention. Yeah, exactly the text. It encourages us to pay attention to those aha moments, right, right? Like those sudden flashes of insight. It's almost like they're coming from beyond our normal thinking, yeah. Like that intuitive nudge to take a different path, or you suddenly understand a situation that's been bothering you. Those Those could be our adjuster, trying to guide us. Makes me think about all those times that I've, like, wrestled with a big decision. You know, you go back and forth, and then suddenly the answer, it's, it's just there, right? Like, I don't know where it could be, is that, is that kind of what we're talking about here?

S Sarah 04:50

J John 05:08

S

Sarah 05:19

J

John 05:39

S

Sarah 05:54

It could very well be, yeah, wow. But of course, the text, it does warn us too, you know about mistaking our own desires or our fears for the adjuster's voice, right? So discernment is key. You know, it's about like developing that inner sensitivity, that ability to tell the difference between the ego's voice and that quiet whisper of the Divine. Okay? So how do we do that? How do we learn to tell the difference? Because let's be real. Sometimes those voices can sound very, very similar. It's a challenge, that's for sure, but the text, it does offer some guidance. It suggests that if we align our thoughts and our actions with our desire to grow spiritually, that strengthens the connection. Okay, so, choosing love over fear, responding with kindness and compassion, embracing the fact that we're all interconnected, these are ways of it's almost like we're tuning our inner radio dial to the right frequency, right. We're right, like sending a signal back, saying, Hey, we're here. We're listening. Guide us exactly, exactly and and as we do that, you know, as we get more and more committed to our spiritual growth. Something, something really remarkable happens. Okay, when we hit that third circle, something new comes into play. We get a personal, seraphic guardian of destiny. Wait, oh, what a hold on. We're getting back up now, yeah, you could say that that's awesome.

J

John 06:17

S

Sarah 06:23

J

John 06:50

S

Sarah 06:54

J John 07:12

S Sarah 07:15

It's like our commitment. It's earned us a promotion, and with that comes extra support. Now, the text, it doesn't really get into a ton of detail about these cerafic Guardians, right, but it does hint that they play a pretty significant role in our journey.

J John 07:29

Wow. So we've got this divine fragment on the inside guiding us, and now we've got a Sarah effic Guardian on our teams, like we've got a whole cosmic support system. Now, exactly, this is great. Yeah, it's pretty amazing. And yet, even with all this help, the text is very clear that reaching true union with our adjuster, what it calls fusion, it's really rare in a human lifetime, okay, free Will's always there, you know, right? And even with crystal clear guidance, we can still mess up, make choices that lead us away from that union. Okay, so this fusion idea, it's fascinating, but I'm not gonna lie, it's a little mind boggling. What does it actually mean to fuse with our adjuster like, do our identities just completely merge?

S Sarah 07:39

J John 08:02

That's basically it. Yeah, imagine two streams of consciousness, two separate beings becoming one. Okay? It's a total blend of the human and the divine. It's, it's beyond anything we can really grasp right now. Wow.

J John 08:25

So it's not just about being like, close to the divine. It's about becoming one with it. That's a pretty huge concept.

S Sarah 08:33

It really is and and what's even more amazing is that, according to the text, this fusion, it doesn't have to wait till we die. It can happen while we're still alive? Ooh, hold on, really, yeah, fusion while we're still here. Oh, in these bodies, how's that even possible? The text describes it as incredibly rare, right? It's for those who reach an incredible level of spiritual attunement. It's like their liberation, their essence. It aligns so perfectly with their adjuster that their physical form just disappears, well, in a way, okay, the text actually uses the word consumed, and it even says that to people watching it might look like Chariots of Fire.

J John 08:42

S Sarah 08:47

J John 09:05

S Sarah 09:13

Okay. Now that's a visual, right? So not your typical way to go out. But what about the rest of us who aren't quite at that, like, spiritual master level, yet, right? What happens to the adjuster when we die? Does it just like, say, good effort. Head back to cosmic headquarters. That's what I'm picturing, right? Like, cosmic taxi drops us off at some spiritual way station, right, right? But the adjuster doesn't get out, yeah, rolls down the window, you know? Like, good luck with all that, see ya, right.

J John 09:38

Don't call us. We'll call you exactly No, but really like what happens? Well, thankfully, thankfully. That's not quite how it works. Okay, good. The text is very clear about this, the adjuster sticks with us. Oh, wow, even after death, this connection, this, this partnership we've been talking about, it goes beyond the Phys. Cool.

S Sarah 09:41

J John 10:00

So no matter what, we're not just like wandering around the afterlife on our own. You got it this partnership. It keeps going,

S

Sarah 10:07

yeah, it transcends, even if we don't hit that full fusion, that adjuster. It patiently waits for the soul to be free from the body. Okay? And then they journey together to what the book calls the mansion worlds, which are it describes them as, like, the next level of of spiritual education, okay, mansion worlds. That sounds well, it's intriguing to say. The

J

John 10:24

S

Sarah 10:28

least it does, doesn't it?

J

John 10:30

What? What happens there? Is it all like endless buffets and heart music.

S

Sarah 10:34

You know, I have a feeling it's a little more, a little more dynamic than that. Hopefully, sure there's some serious relaxation involved too, but, but, yeah, from what I gather, the mansion worlds, they're more like, think of them as vibrant learning centers, okay, where we keep growing. You know, we take all those experiences from our human life, and we start to see them from this, this bigger, cosmic perspective.

J

John 10:59

So less about like kicking back, relaxing by the pool, and more about processing, learning, continuing to grow.

S

Sarah 11:06

Yeah, more like cosmic College. Cosmic college. I like that. Okay, right. So we're weaving the the human experience into this larger tapestry. Yeah, that's a good way to put it. And, and here's where it gets really wild. Okay, hit me. The text says that even after fusion, the learning doesn't stop.

J

John 11:09

S

Sarah 11:15

J

John 11:24

Wait, hold on a second. Even when you've become one with this like Divine Spark, there's still more a parable, more to learn, more to discover. It says it takes an eternity for an adjuster to share everything it knows. Oh, wow, all the wisdom it's gathered over like, who knows how long imagine that an eternity of learning. You're constantly expanding your understanding of the cosmos of yourself, and you're doing it alongside this being that knows you like inside and out. It really makes you think about like all of our human ideas of knowledge, of achievement, it does. We think we've got it all figured out, and then we get this glimpse of this, like never ending journey, right? Humbling for sure and inspiring at the same time. You know it is? It is? It's a good reminder that that we're all works in progress, yeah, yeah, every single one of us, we're eternal beings. Yeah, on this incredible journey of becoming and even with all the craziness of our daily lives, this amazing being, this this piece of the Divine, it's there. It's there. It's walking with us every step of the way, every step patiently guiding us, you know, cheering us on. Never gives up, never giving up, even when we stumble, which, let's face it, we all do. We all do. It's more than just walking with us. It's, it's part of us. Yeah, it's woven into who we are. That's, that's really profound when you think about it. It is. It's a that's really profound, when you think about it, it is. It's a testament to just how interconnected we all are, yeah, and the infinite potential that's inside each and every one of us.

S

Sarah 11:34

J

John 11:56

S

Sarah 12:10

J

John 12:20

S

Sarah 12:45

J

John 12:48

S

Sarah 12:51

J

John 12:58

Well, this has been quite the deep dive. I've got to say it has to everyone listening. We really encourage you go check out the Urantia Book for yourselves, especially paper 110 and as you go about your day today, remember this, you are not alone. You've got this spark of the divine right there inside you, just waiting for you to, you know, to wake up to it. That's beautifully said. Until next time, everyone keep seeking, keep asking those big questions, and keep diving deeper into well, all those mysteries that connect us.
